

NSPCC
Learning

Talk Relationships

A suite of support to help you confidently deliver sex and relationships education across your whole school.

+ Inside the classroom

Affordable elearning
and free, ready to teach,
age appropriate lesson plans made in collaboration with the PSHE association

+ The whole school approach

A framework and tools for school leaders to embed sex and relationships education across the whole school. Made in partnership with Life Lessons

+ Support outside of the classroom

A dedicated helpline to support you with advice and guidance on delivering sex and relationships education.

“It’s created an environment where students have the ability to feel comfortable speaking about topics that they might feel uncomfortable speaking about at home”

Teacher

A new approach to sex and relationships education

A whole school approach to sex and relationships education (WSA)

Take sex and relationships education beyond the classroom, and implement a whole school approach to create a safe and responsive educational environment for young people to speak out and seek help.

➤ Visit nspcc.org.uk/talkrelationships

A snapshot of where your school stands now

As part of the WSA framework, download and use a simple tool for school leaders to quickly measure where your school is performing well and where you can make adjustments.

➤ Sign up at nspcc.org.uk/talkrelationships

The Whole School Approach Framework

A free, downloadable framework that outlines what a Whole School Approach encompasses. Developed from research and direct feedback from young people to give them the sex and relationships education (SRE) that they are asking for.

The framework, and accompanying resources, will enable school leaders to cement the WSA within your school.

In April 2024, we're releasing:

- + A comprehensive whole school approach framework
- + An SRE snapshot tool to measure your school's current performance
- + An action plan to integrate the whole school approach in your school

The WSA Framework forms part of our broader Talk Relationships service.

Using these resources will help you to:

- + Create a safe, inclusive school culture
- + Develop an effective responsive sex and relationships curriculum
- + Broaden sex and relationships education beyond the classroom

In partnership with

